Achievers

What have you done today to make you feel proud?

Week ending 11th February 2022

Portwrinkle

P is our achiever this week. She has made super progress in Read Write Inc. Well done!

Polzeath

For being an amazing 'Have a go Harry' and putting so much effort into all work this week! For also being a real 'Izzy ideas' during carpet time- well done!

Kingsand

R for being a great 'Have a go Harry' and showing great determination in his persuasive letter writing. Well done, R!

Mousehole

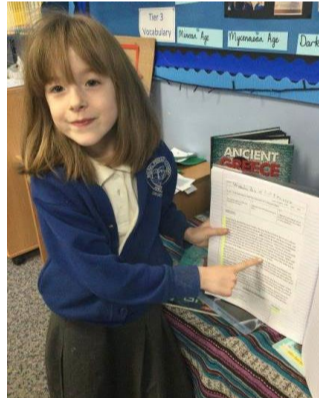

Recently, H has really impressed me with his attitude to learning and independence. He is being a real 'Have a go Harry', even when he finds it tough. Also, for heroically saving me when I lost a welly boot on our trip!

Whitsand

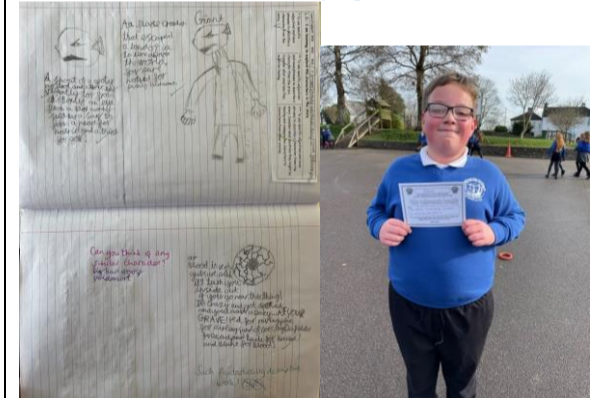

For being an incredible 'Izzy Ideas' in DT. She came up with an original design for a mechanised Hindu murti (religious image) and got stuck in to applying her levers and linkages knowledge.

Constantine

This week's achiever in Constantine is L for she is working so very hard to do her best in each subject but particularly in English lessons. We call her the 'apostrophe queen' because she is great at both finding them and knowing why we use them!

Finnygook

R has such a wonderful imagination. He used fantastic vocabulary to describe the giant and zoom in on his character traits – it was really gory too! I look forward to his story being written!

Looe

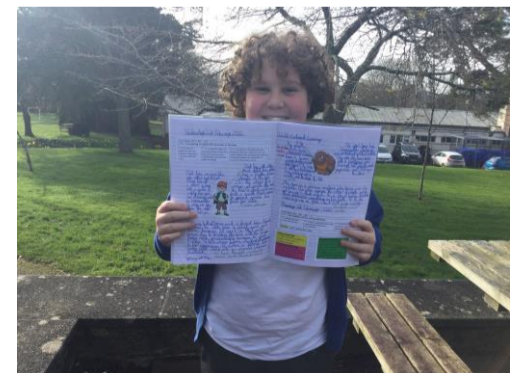

For his marvellous maths and exciting English learning this week. N has produced a wonderfully artistic tension map, highlighting the numerous tension points in the tale of Jack and the Beanstalk. Not only this but his use of tier 2 vocabulary is unsurpassed, well done N.

Pendower

For being a 'keep trying Kirsten' in maths and making great progress. Well done M, keep up the good work. Mrs M.

Seaton

For his fantastic enthusiasm in his English work. R chooses his vocabulary wisely and thinks carefully about his sentence structure. I love reading his work!
