

All about Mrs Swabey!

I studied Environmental Science at Plymouth University. We got to go on lots of field trips: some beautiful places like beaches and ancient woodland, some not-so-glamorous like rubbish tips and sewerage works!

Despite being scared of many things like roller coasters, I did a skydive for charity (in memory of my friend), jumping out the plane at 15,000ft in the air!

I am 'proper Cornish'! I was born in a tiny cottage hospital near Bude. I grew up in a little hamlet called Morwenstow, before moving to Saltash. I went to Brunel Primary as a child from Year 4 to Year

I like all animals but my favourite pets are cats—I have one called Ziggy. If I could, I would get an alpaca!

I like to watch football and support Plymouth Argyle. I have had a season ticket for the same seat for nearly 18 years!

I have a daughter called Mia, who is about 9 months old. She is very cheeky and has just started crawling!

I love to travel and have been lucky enough to visit many different cities, including Barcelona, Monaco, Prague, Edinburgh, Las Vegas, Rome and Athens. My husband has relatives in Toronto, Canada (which is my favourite place in the world, after Cornwall of course).

I love baking and being creative. I have made lots of cakes for birthdays, weddings and other celebrations. My wedding cake had 4 tiers—it was very tall, and each tier was a different flavour!
